How it Works:

- Conduits - Receivables are worked daily by our staff and we service from loan creation to satisfaction, including deficiency collections. Conduits represent a full outsourcing of all functions of our client's business, excluding loan underwriting and marketing.
- Bulk transfers - Bulk transfers generally represent total outsourcing of all functions. The owner of the receivables may or may not be the originator of the loans, every new servicing assignment is customized and managed through a dedicated client management team and a single point of contact.
- Third-party – Only the FlexPath Capital, Inc name and brand are utilized. This is often the case when FlexPath Capital, Inc is the servicer for portfolios in which the prior servicer is exiting the business. FlexPath Capital, Inc was built to be a third-party servicing operation. We are not a lender ourselves but concentrate 100% of our efforts on your clients.
- National coverage – FlexPath Capital, Inc. services receivables in all 50 states, covering a broad base of obligors. FlexPath Capital, Inc has a team of employees that specialize in a variety of title loan knowledge.
- Training – Every FlexPath Capital, Inc employee who interacts with obligors receives extensive training that includes a review of applicable laws and regulations. All employees are required to participate in regular update/ refresher training programs.
- Employee Incentive Programs – We offer a monthly bonus for our employees when they collect for you! The bonus is based on individual performance. Performance levels are established monthly and are set based on our client's expectations and the performance trend of the portfolio (taking seasonality and other factors into consideration). We measure and reward our employees based on productivity, delinquency and quality tracked in our employee scorecard.
